

REGISTER HILDRETH SURPRISED AT NEWS

Did Not Expect To Be Appointed Receiver

Other Land Office Job
Is Somewhat In Doubt

(From Saturday's Daily.)

The dispatch received by the Journal-Miner of the appointment of Register F. S. Hildreth to be the receiver of the consolidated land office at Phoenix, was the first news which that official received of the action taken by President Roosevelt.

The news was a decided surprise to him, for he was an applicant for the position of register, and he had been promised the place by the President himself. There is a possibility that there may have been an error made by the correspondent at Washington, but evidently the same dispatch was received at Los Angeles, for Mr. Hildreth yesterday received a telegram from his father-in-law, J. C. Martin, who is a resident of the City of Angels, congratulating him upon his appointment as receiver.

The exact facts will not be known until an official communication is received by mail from Washington, and this will also determine whether it is J. M. W. Moore, receiver at Prescott, who has been appointed as register at Phoenix or Milton R. Moore, the present register at Tucson. The press dispatches read William R. Moore, and yet it is surprising that he should be the appointee, in view of the fact that he has expressly declared that he did not want the position. He is advanced in years, and desires to retire from the active duties of life.

Surveyor-General Ingalls has made no selection yet of quarters for the Phoenix land office. He has been interviewed by numerous property owners and real estate agents, but he has offered no indications of his intentions even if he has given any site consideration. He will probably issue a circular inviting real estate men to call upon him at a certain time, and present the advantages they are prepared to offer the government.

WORK AT WHIPPLE IS HURRIED ALONG.

(From Friday's Daily.)

It requires but a glance at the work under way at Fort Whipple to convince the average outsider that the contract for the erection of the twenty-four new buildings is not to be allowed to lag. With each day more men are added to the force doing the preliminary work, and everything is being handled on a time-saving basis.

Thus far the greater portion of the work in hand has been grading the sites for the various buildings, and the grading outfits are still busy. However, here and there are to be seen stone-cutters, brick masons, carpenters, and others engaged in preparing material for foundations, and for much of the temporary equipment that will be needed in building. Probably eighty men are now engaged in this work in various capacities.

An outfit for grading sand is under construction, and is to be located at the creek bed, where the sand will be taken out. It is to be planned much the same as an elevator, endless chains carrying buckets from the creek bed loaded, and dumping them above on a set of screens. These screens are arranged one over the other, four being used in the sorting. The upper screen is of coarse mesh, each one beneath being of a finer mesh, and the sand falling from one to the other, thus grades it exactly as required. This machine will be run by power from a small engine, and it is expected will soon be in operation.

Much of the material needed in the early work on the new buildings is beginning to arrive, and the entire site is the busiest spot in this part of the county. By having leased the brick plant here, the white sand brick called for in the contract will be furnished without delay, and will be made in a manner to conform exactly with the specifications.

It is predicted by those who are conversant with the facts that the fourteen months allowed in which to complete the new buildings will prove more than enough time for the work, the manner it is being cared for at the start indicating that all will be handled on a big plan, and with the plain intention of losing no time from start to finish.

HERBINE

Restores the bile more fluid and thus helps the blood to flow; it affords prompt relief from biliousness, indigestion, sick and nervous headaches, and the over-indulgence in food and drink. Herbine acts quickly; a dose after meals will bring the patient into a good condition in a few days.

G. L. Caldwell, Agt. M. K. and T. R. R., Checotah, Ind. Ter., writes, April 18, 1903: "I was sick for over two years with enlargement of the liver and spleen. The doctors did me no good, and I had given up all hope of being cured, when my druggist advised me to use Herbine. It has made me sound and well." 50c.

PASSING OF TEDDY ROBERTS.

Wednesday morning about 9 o'clock at his room in the Grand Canyon hotel, the spirit of "Teddy" Roberts passed to its maker. He was one of the old and picturesque characters of the day, and had lived for the past quarter of a century on the frontier. For many years past he had charge of the well known Howard sheep ranch, on the Canyon road, eighteen miles north of Williams, and was well and favorably known to a host of friends. Death resulted from cancer of the stomach. He had been ailing for some time, and was brought to the city last week that he might secure medical attendance. He came to the territory at an early day, his home having been at St. Louis, where he had some relatives living. The funeral took place Thursday morning.—Williams News.

PAIR OF ALLEGED HORSE THIEVES JAILED

Arrest of Ross Grewell
And Mexican Charley

One Of The Prisoners
Has Been Before In Trouble

(From Saturday's Daily.)

Ross Grewell and Mexican Charley arrived here yesterday from Phoenix in the custody of Sheriff Lowry and Sheriff Walker of Maricopa county. They are alleged to be horse thieves, and there are several complaints against them from residents of this county who have related their suspicions to Sheriff Lowry.

The prisoners were arraigned yesterday afternoon before Justice Talbot, and their preliminary hearing was fixed for this afternoon at 2 o'clock, when full details of the alleged crime will be brought out.

The accused pair arrived in Phoenix the other day with a lot of horses, which they had driven from this county. They put them in Helm's pasture on Grand avenue. Soon after a deputy sheriff visited the place with an attachment for one of the horses and a saddle. This was a civil proceeding.

The attachment was made and the property was taken to Phoenix. The next night an order for the arrest of Grewell and the Mexican came, and the former was taken into custody. At that time Grewell said that he had inspector's certificates in his possession. However, he could not show them, although he had a certificate for a horse which was not in his possession.

It is not known that Grewell was ever in trouble before, but the Yavapai authorities regard the Mexican as an accomplished horse and cattle thief. He has been on trial several times but the territory always fell a little short of conviction.

Grewell is well known throughout the territory. He was one of the active participants in the famous Tewksbury and Graham Tonto Basin war.

The defendants are represented by Attorneys Ross and O'Sullivan.

LIQUOR LICENSE REVOKED IN JEROME.

(From Friday's Daily.)

Jerome's moral wave, that started with compelling saloons to discontinue female help, and more recently began a crusade to close all gambling, took a fresh spurt Wednesday, when at a special meeting of the council the liquor license of Sullivan and Harrington was revoked, and the saloon ordered closed. The saloon in question is located nearly opposite the post office, and is the resort of many of the men working at the mine and smelter. A restaurant is attached at which quite a number of the miners board.

The council acted upon complaint, charging that the place was disorderly and a nuisance to other places of business in that neighborhood.

City Marshal Hawkins was instructed to call for the license that had been issued to them, and to refund them the money paid in, for the unexpired portion of the quarter. After having performed this duty and ordered the house to close, the proprietors told the marshal they would not follow instructions, and would continue to conduct their business as long as others were allowed to.

Yesterday morning the place was found open and doing business, and the owners were at once arrested and the saloon was again closed. The proprietors are reported to have issued a defy to the officials of the copper city, and to have declared their intention to fight the case to a finish. On the other hand the council announces that it will continue to arrest the saloon men every time they open their doors. After their arrest yesterday they were released upon a $100 bond, and it is not impossible that another attempt may be made to open the saloon in the face of the authority against them.

It was reported last evening that Sullivan & Harrington had conferred with a prominent legal firm of Prescott, and will place the matter in their hands. The fact that a restaurant has been operated in the saloon is taken to mean that a legal fight may be made to show that the council had no authority to prevent the proprietors from doing business. The whole affair is apparently but one of the many threads in the reform skein that has become entwined about the corporate limits of the little city of copper.

Nothing on the Market Equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy.

This fact is well known to druggists everywhere, and nine out of ten will give their customers this preparation when the best is asked for. Mr. Obe Witmer, a prominent druggist of Joplin, Mo., in a circular to his customers, says: "There is nothing on the market in the way of patent medicine which equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. We sell and recommend this preparation." For sale by all dealers.

OPEN AIR CONCERT.

Tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock the Tilton Machine Company will give another of its enjoyable concerts on the plaza, to which everyone is cordially invited. In the absence of music by the city band these concerts have proven quite an attraction, and those who go to the trouble to furnish them free of all cost are the recipients of thanks from many of the music lovers of Prescott.

RHEUMATISM.

When pains or irritation exist on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment gives prompt relief. E. W. Sullivan, Prop. Sullivan Houses, El Reno, O. It is the only remedy I have found that gives immediate relief." 25c, 50c, $1.00.

GOING FISHING.

Two Families Plan An Outing Trip to Oak Creek.

Ed. Shumate with his wife and son, and Jos. Roberts and wife will next Monday start on an overland outing trip to the Oak Creek fishing country, and expect to remain away from the city and business affairs for not less than two weeks. The party will outfit in a manner to give them every possible comfort while camping out, and will use two rigs to carry them and their camping paraphernalia.

From reports of those who have recently been on Oak Creek for the funny beauties, fishing is now at its very best, and for many miles along the creek camping conditions are as near perfect as one can desire. The two families expect to keep as far as possible from civilization, post office, and telephone lines, and to put in their time in full enjoyment of the excellent sport and rest the country will afford them.

I had fever, and ague, my nerves were wrecked; I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak, from useless doctors' drugs that I could not eat. Soon after beginning to take Electric Bitters I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed at all druggists; price 50c.

RUNAWAY HORSES MAKE SEASON'S RECORD

Team Runs Six Blocks
Without Causing Damage

Traveled On Sidewalk
And Cleared All
Trees

(From Saturday's Daily.)

What was in the finish declared to be the warmest runaway of the midsummer season occurred yesterday afternoon, and the wood delivery wagon owned by Thompson, made one of the fastest trips during its local record. The team pulling this vehicle started somewhere about the plaza, and was apparently attempting to make a road record when it passed along Cortez street. In running toward the depot the runaway animals misunderstood instructions. One wanted to turn the corner at the De Mund lumber yard, and the other objected. The result was a compromise, and the pair then took the sidewalk for their course, incidentally demolishing awnings and signs that happened to be in their way.

How they passed a row of trees and other obstructions is a wonder to all who saw them, and when they reached the depot they were still running free without as much as a broken tug. Here they veered to the west, starting along the track for the trestle over Granite creek, but before they arrived there they again made a new move, running at full speed down the steep incline into the foot of Montezuma street. They made this dangerous part of their journey without accident, and in trying to frighten everyone along Montezuma street, failed of wind, slowed down, and were easily caught. Because of their dangerous route, and the fact that no one was injured, and the outfit entirely free from damage, the run is declared to be a record breaker for the summer.

MORMON VETERAN CELEBRATES OIS BIRTHDAY.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

A latter day patriarch with descendants numbering 800 is Benjamin Franklin Johnson, a resident of Mesa. Friday was his 87th birthday, and it was made something of a public holiday. All day and till midnight the old man received his relatives and friends, as they came in almost endless procession. Entirely unnecessary to note, Patriarch Johnson is a disciple of Joseph Smith and his visitors comprised practically the entire membership of Maricopa Stake of Zion of the Church of Latter Day Saints. At the evening gathering at the Johnson residence Bishop Frank T. Pomeroy was chairman and the principal speaker, excluding the honored host, was Stake President C. E. Hakes. There was a program of songs and addresses and prayers and among the presents brought were offerings from each of fifty or more children present, descendants of the patriarch.

Though no very strong emphasis is put upon the fact, it is understood that Patriarch Johnson was the husband of seven wives, a number of them still surviving. He came to Arizona in 1882, settling with several of his families in Tempe. There was considerable of a tribal strength of the Johnsons even at that time. In the local school of 100 pupils, Teacher Margaret Blake discovered there were 23 who acknowledged him as father.

Most of the Mormon holdings in Tempe were purchased later by a company, headed by L. W. Blinn of Los Angeles. Before the colony broke up, however, there was a notable gathering at the two-room schoolhouse. Father Johnson had been absent in Mexico for some time, having fled so it is stated, to escape persecution under the Edmunds act. Under some arrangement with the United States authorities he was permitted to come back for a few days to attend a family reunion. A large part of the family was in Utah, and others were scattered all over the coast, but enough remained to more than fill the schoolhouse—there being few attendants beside Johnsons and their wives. The Tempe families moved to new land near Mesa, where they founded a colony that still is known as "Johnsonville."

The patriarch, despite his advanced age, is still strong and hearty, tall, erect, and lean, with the clearest of minds. Almost without exception his descendants are a notably handsome lot, many of the girls being positively beautiful. As citizens no better could be found in the way of honesty and sobriety. It is not known whether any of his sons in Arizona have entered into polygamy, but all have had large families, which again have divided to the fourth generation.

When Prophet Joseph Smith was killed at Nauvoo, B. F. Johnson was at his elbow. A New Yorker by birth, he had joined the Mormon Church at the age of 13. When the Mormon exodus went westward in search of the Promised Land, Johnson was a captain of the Fifties. He was one of the chiefest in the building up of Utah and the church. A strong preacher, he was sent on missions to the Hawaiian Islands and to Canada.

His own contribution to the exercises of the evening on which his neighbors sought to do him honor was a spirited address, in which he declared the divine revelation to Joseph Smith and the truth in the Book of Mormon. Then, as did the patriarchs of old, he blessed the children before they departed, saying that it probably would be the last time he would meet them on such an occasion. The keynote of the address of Benjamin Johnson showed conclusively the errors of the popular estimation of polygamy as something vile and unusual.

REGISTER HILDRETH IS RE-APPOINTED.

(From Friday's Daily.)

A dispatch from Washington to the Journal-Miner states that F. S. Hildreth of Prescott has been appointed Receiver of the consolidated land office at Phoenix, Ariz., and that William Moore has been appointed register. As the name of the register at Tucson is Milton R. Moore, and the receiver at Prescott is J. M. W. Moore, it is not clear as to which is the appointee according to the dispatch.

The Tucson gentleman, it is understood, was not an applicant for any position in the Phoenix office, while the Prescott official was backed by many friends in his desire to continue his term of office.

The people of this city will hope that the Prescott man is the appointee, although it has been the general opinion that the President would name one man from each city to fill the two positions connected with the land office.
